IMPEACHMENT.

The High Court—"Truly Loil"—Cross Examinations by the Cynocephalus—The Pretty Senator—Humors of the Trial—The Radical Programme.

WASHINGTON, April, 1868.

We have high times in the High Court. Mr. Butler is so very funny that we almost die of laughing, and whenever he speaks of law or justice, why then we laugh more than at any other time. When it gets dull we read novels, or do a little crochet work, or go out and eat pies and drink burnt-pea coffee, and come back refreshed, and take another turn at the President, and laugh some more. The other day we had Lorenzo Thomas up, and it was splendid to see the way Mr. Butler turned the old rogue inside out. He got him to admit that when the President told him to act as Secretary of War, he (Thomas) thought it his duty to obey the orders of his Commander in-Chief, and at this irrefragable evidence of a criminal intent you may well imagine that we all looked grave. Then Mr. B. continued the cross-examination, and brought witness to swear that the President told him he (the President) intended to maintain the Constitution and the laws, and expected him (witness) to do the same, and that he (witness) said that he would, and at this there was hardly a dry eye in the house. We laughed and laughed in the galleries till we cried, and on the floor it was remarked that Mr. Manager Stevens recrossed his sadly attenuated legs and waggled his honored head about in an ecstacy of joy. There were some, it is true, who objected to all this—chiefly copperheads and rebels, however—and seemed to think that it was shameful to abuse an old gray-haired man, whose life had been spent in the service of his country, and who then stood in the Senate chamber in the uniform of a general in the army, in such a manner, and one foul-mouthed person in particular went so far as to say that Butler was re-earning his title of Beast; but these disloyal sentiments did not prevail to any alarming extent, and we were very happy and laughed a great deal when Mr. Butler fixed his eye upon witness and said: "Now, sir!" Then he called him "Lorenzo," and we all laughed again, and then he referred to him as "this person," and at this it is hardly possible to describe the exaltation which thrilled every trooly loil heart in the hall. As the Scotchman says, "Eh! sirs, but it was grand," and I don't know but that we would all have given vent to our feelings, but at the mention of "person" Mr. Sumner raised his head—you see he writes letters to his friends all during the sessions of the High Court—and we thought he was going to give us a speech. This true friend of the rights of man never hears that word but he instantaneously thinks of "person of color," feels it incumbent upon him to say something.—This time, however, we were disappointed, for the Great Flogged—how sad it was they had to take his back-bone out in Europe, and scrape it and soak it in oil—merely gave us a gentle smile and went on writing his private letters on the public note.—Seeing this, Mr. Butler redoubled his efforts to console us, and received the most valuable aid in the further cross-examination from Senator Drake, who came up and at close to the Manager's elbow, and called for the yeas and nays just as Mr. B. tipped him the wink. A true, true friend is Mr. Drake to the rights of man, and so especially fond of the poor, down-trodden colored race, that his hair is as kinky as a nation's ward's.—Lavater says the passions of the mind mould the fleshly tenement; and as the Senator from Missouri is a most devout Republican, perhaps this has something to do with his very crispy locks. But, be that as it may, Senator Drake is one of the most trooly loil men in the House, and one of the handsomest, always excepting Mr. Conkling, who is the acknowledged Adonis of the Senate. I look down sometimes on this great and good man, and, if he does turn his toes in and walk, as this same foul-mouthed person I have before rebuked says, like a turkey on hot plates, there is something in his general aspect to command remark. In height he is quite tall, some seven feet nine or ten, I should say, with his hat on, and his hair is of a most lovely new mown hay color, and inclined to curl. His forehead is Shakespearian, and a little turf of wool runs down its centre like a cape of curls projecting into a boundless contiguity of skin. Senator Trumbull is also a most striking man. Seven years ago he looked like a fox. To-day he resembles nothing so much as a mole, and in seven years to come, if his face continues to retreat in the same proportion, the back side of his head will be the front. Being trooly loil, he is, of course, of a modest and retiring turn.

But to resume. After getting in A. J's declaration about supporting the Constitution—he! he! excuse me, but really it is too funny. The idea of anybody's doing such a thing in these enlightened days—Mr. B went on to make Thomas controvert himself, and O! it was fine to hear him say, in those silvery tones of his—"But didn't yer say it?" and "Ah! ha! but I thought yer did ——" and "Yer didn't mean it, then" and "Yer didn't git intoe the War Office after all, did yer?" A piece of plate should be presented to this man. After getting through with "Mr." Thomas, as Major-General Butler persistently called him—imagine how we larfed—we next had Lieutenant-General Sherman on the stand. His evidence was, of course, mostly nothing, though some copperhead papers have laid great stress upon some testimony to the effect that the President wanted "it" in the courts, and wouldn't even consider the question of force, and so on and so on.—General Sherman is to leave, in a few days, for Alaska, or Nova Scotia, or Nova Zembla, or the Island of Fire, or some other real estate lately purchased by Mr. Seward, and, though known to have done good service, we are rather glad to have him go, and hope he will find the icebergs and the bears interesting company. The truth is, these military men, always excepting Butler, and Turchin, and Milroy and Detective Baker, and Secretary Stanton, and General Grant, of course—didn't he trick A. J. nicely—don't seem to understand this thing. Why, what's a oath? We've taken so many of 'em in the last seven years that the Recording Angel has got tired of keeping account of them, and don't know whether we keep them or not; and, then, what's the reason Lieutenant General Sherman need be so very particular, and General Grant should tear the straps from off his shoulders and put them on his own back. He puts the good of trooly loil men far above these little trivial matters of actual circumstance, and, it is to be hoped, may still remain the saviour of the nation when "Mr." Sherman has found a safe resting place in the œsophagus of some polar bear.

But, to continue. After we got through with Gen. Sherman, Mr. Stanbery took sick. It is said he has the pleurisy, and, if so, no wonder. Mr. Butler is enough to give anybody the pleurisy. There is not a loil diaphragm in the gallery, or on the floor, for that matter, but is sore with laughing at his witticisms, and, if he can do this in friendship, what can he do in hate?—Owing, therefore, to the pleurisy, things are not as lively as they were, for half the fun consisted in this man Stanbery saying something about sacred obligations of the Constitution, and Mr. Butler responding—"Yes, Mr. President and Senators, but don't exactly see it in that light"—for you must know that Mr. B. begins his sentences with great deliberation and winds up in a gallop, just as though somebody had pinched him when about half through and made the closing moiety shoot out like a bullet from a gun. The voice of the honorable Manager, too, though silvery, as mentioned, is not at all times so silvery as it might be. Occasionally it has the ring of brass, and now and then becomes even guttural. This, of course, is due to the arduous labors of this trooly loil man in argument, and it is a copperhead lie to declare that at such times the blood of Mumford is choking him.

And now about the verdict. Well, we haven't made out much of a case, it is true, but we never came before the Senate to make out cases. We came to get this man Johnson out, and we're going to do it. We have put the screws to some of the weaker brethren, and feel confident that if we will only let them make a show for home consumption in the preliminary votes, they'll give their voices right on the final call. And then, entre nous, when we get Andy out we'll make short work with the Senate. It hasn't come up to the work in the proper spirit. It has put us under no little apprehension, and we are not yet entirely without doubt. And then, you know, it is aristocratic in its nature, and modelled for its origin on the British House of Lords, and in order to have a government purely republican in form we must do away with every remnant of kingly rule. There is precedent for this. In the days of the tyrant Charles, the Commons of England declared on one day that there should be no executive power in the hands of any one single man, and on the next day abolished the House of Lords as useless, and the third day made it law that they themselves alone possessed any right to govern. In the days, likewise, of tyrant Louis the National Assembly went through exactly the same procedure—first abolishing any chief-magistracy in the nation, and then doing away with the Upper House, and then declaring the representative chamber alone the ruling power; and just so in the days of tyrant Andy, we intend to follow those glorious apostles of freedom—Cromwell, of England, and Robespierre, of France. If blood comes, so be it. Cromwell had the army, and we've got Grant. Robespierre had the guillotine, and we'll resurrect Detective Baker, and set Mr. Seward to re-ringing his little bell. That's the plan; but remember this is private. The thing isn't quite ripe yet, and meanwhile we make a great show of respect for the High Court, and flatter the people all we can, though, in our heart of hearts, we know them to be as infernal a set of slaves as ever merited an iron chain. They rise up against us, they, the people, forsooth, poor, pluckless dogs! Why, we blackened Andrew Johnson as a drunkard, in order to break down the man and destroy the dignity of his office, and pave the way to the deposition of the one and the abolition of the other, just as Charles was blackened as a debauchee and Louis as a wilful cuckold, and the people never pretended to vindicate their President, rather laughed at it, and thought it a good joke, and never discerned, poor brutal fools, the plot at the bottom of it. Then we spit in the face of the Supreme Court, and declared it should not take cognizance of "all" cases as the Constitution provides, and the people never ever grunted at this second blow. And now we've impeached the President, and in thirty five millions of people, there's not been a single public meeting to condemn the move. We are safe, I tell you, and it is only a question of time when we shall put the programme through. The other night I was in a gathering of the saints, and they all said so, and I know it's so. There wasn't a thief in the room but was as loyal as Judas when he bore the bag, and they all agreed in despising the people. One said "Bah!" and another said "D—n 'em," and a third quoted something from Shakspeare about a greasy rabble with their stinking breath, and then all fell to work on some rough draughts of legislation to this end, and I came away. Moral Ideas must prevail.—"Trooly loil." S. D.

The Bankrupt Act.

We have been requested to publish the Bankrupt Law. This is impossible. It makes a respectable volume. In order, however, that our friends may understand it, and may therefore not be liable to be imposed upon by parties, who are indifferent to the interests of others, we have taken some pains to compile from several sources the following general principles of the Act, for the benefit of all who contemplate seeking its remedies. But first of all, we advise our friends not to determine exactly what they will do, until they have had the counsel of a respectable and intelligent attorney, upon whom they can rely.

1. The manifest design of the Bankrupt Law is to benefit honest, but unfortunate, debtors, whose just liabilities are greater than they can pay.

2. To become a voluntary bankrupt under this Act, the debtor must owe at least $300, which, of course, he is not able to pay in full.

3. Petitioners under the Bankrupt Act are required to render a schedule of all their debts and liabilities, of every kind and description whatever, and also an inventory of all their estate, both real and personal, including all property and effects of which they are possessed, or in which they may have an interest, (though not in possession,) in conformity with certain "Forms" prescribed in the "General Order" of the Supreme Court of the United States. These schedules, verified by the oath of the petitioner before a District Court Judge, Register in Bankruptcy, or U S Commissioner, must accompany the petition, and, when filed, is the commencement of proceedings in Bankruptcy. If it should be found out, pending the proceedings at any time before the bankrupt is discharged, that he has, by any shift or subterfuge, made a false or partial schedule, this would be evidence of fraud and would defeat his discharge.

4. When the petition is by a firm or copartnership, a full set of schedules of the respective estates of the members of the firm should also be added.

5. When the petition is filed, the case is immediately referred to a Register, who examines the petition and schedules annexed thereto, and if they are correct in form, makes a certificate to that effect, to be filed with the Clerk, then adjudges the debtor a Bankrupt and issues a warrant to the messenger to summon all the creditors named in the petitioner's schedules to meet at the Register's office, at a certain time and place, to prove their claims and elect one or more Assignees to take charge of the Bankrupt's estate.

6. A creditor can, however, prove his claim at any time previous to the last dividend, which will generally be six months subsequent to the adjudication of Bankruptcy.

7. No creditor has any standing in a Bankrupt Court until he proves his claim.

8. Creditors have no right to compel the Bankrupt to answer questions concerning the disposal of property by him acquired subsequent to filing a petition in Bankruptcy. "In other words, the date of the filing of the petition by or against a debtor, is the date at which, if adjudication of bankruptcy follows, the old order of things passes away and a new leaf is turned over." On this point decisions have been variant. The safe rule appears to be, that the applicant in Bankruptcy has a perfect right to claim whatever he has made after his application, by his personal exertions, but any profits he may have made, from investment or credit, may be liable to the claim of the receiver up to almost the period of his discharge.

9. The Bankrupt can apply to the Court at any time after the expiration of six months, and within one year from the adjudication, for the discharge in bankruptcy, and in case no assets come into the hands of the assignee, or no debts be proved against his estate, at any time after the expiration of sixty days.

10. As soon as an Assignee is elected or appointed, the Judge or Register will convey to him, by deed of assignment, all the bankrupt's property except what is exempted, viz: "Household and kitchen furniture and other necessaries not exceeding in value ($500) five hundred dollars; also his wearing apparel and that of his wife and children, and such other property not included in the foregoing as is exempt from levy and sale upon execution or other process by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt resides, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by State exemption laws in force in 1864. A safe 'Counsellor' suggests, under this head, that the common impression that persons may become bankrupts and yet be allowed to retain their houses and lands, or other property of considerable value, is a great mistake. Under the Act, no honest Bankrupt in this State can have allotted to him, free from the operation of the Act, exceeding $700, besides the wearing apparel of himself and family. Bankrupts in this State are not entitled to homesteads under this Act.

11. It is the duty of the assignee, within twenty days after the assignment to him is made, to allot to the bankrupt such articles as are exempted, and file an inventory of the same with the value of each article so allotted, and creditors may make objections to the report of the Assignee at any time within twenty days after it is filed.

12. As to costs in bankruptcy proceedings, section 46 of the Bankrupt Act provides that the petitioner, before a warrant issues, shall deposit fifty dollars with the Register, or with the Clerk, to be delivered to the Register as a security for his fees. General order XXIX provides that the fees of the Register, Marshal and Clerk shall be prepaid or secured before they can be compelled to act. It is also provided by General order XXX, that where the debtor has no means, and can prove the fact to the satisfaction of the Court, upon application, an order will be made requiring all the costs in the case to be paid out of the fifty dollars deposited with the Register. If, however, there are assets, but not enough to pay the Messenger after deducting the Bankrupt's exempted property, so that nothing comes into the hands of the Assignee, the fees will have to be paid by the Bankrupt; but if the Assignee receives assets, the fees of the Messenger will be paid by him before any dividend is made among creditors.

13. Some suppose that the Register is entitled to $50 fee. The fees of the Register, Messenger, Clerk, and costs of publication of notices in Bankruptcy, are fixed by law, and if they demand higher fees, they are liable, as in other cases of malfeasance in office. In ordinary cases of Bankruptcy, the fees may amount to $100. In some cases more, in some less—the costs depending on the amount of labor and litigation involved in each case.

14. Differences of opinion among Attorneys have existed in this State, as to the limit which the Act makes as to the time to make application in Bankruptcy. Some have supposed that no debtor will be permitted to apply for Bankruptcy after some early day in March, unless he is able to pay fifty per cent of his debts. We are assured that this is not the case. The law did not go into operation for the purposes for which it was enacted until June 1st, 1867. It gives twelve months from that time, to all honest debtors, whatever may be the extent of their indebtedness which they cannot pay, in which to present their applications. After the 1st of June next, every debtor must be able to pay fifty per cent of his indebtedness in order to a successful application in bankruptcy, unless he first obtain the consent of a majority of his creditors.

THE RESULT OF THE ELECTION.

We are not yet in possession of sufficient returns, to state, with any definiteness, the certain results of the election. The unofficial returns, however, reaching us by our last Western correspondence, &c., force us to state, that we concede the ratification of the infamous Constitution. We announce such a probability with sincere grief for the honor, the virtue, and the future prospects of our dear old State. Stupid ignorance and a depraved and vicious Jacobinism may rejoice over this result, but to all good men it will be a most distressing catastrophe.

Our opinions of the character of the new Constitution are before the public. Those opinions were deliberately formed and honestly expressed. We have nothing to take back, and nothing to regret, in what we have said or done in our anxiety to defeat it. We believe that the most of those of the white people, who have voted for it, have done so without proper appreciation of its iniquitous and ruinous character.—Thousands have been duped and cajoled into its support, but the day is not distant when these persons will repent their folly in "dust and ashes." Many were prompted to support the Constitution by mean, low, sinister feelings, and others by sheer hatred of their fellow citizens, who have honestly differed with them in sentiment. We envy no man such feelings. We thank Heaven, that nothing grovelling, mean, sordid or vicious has prompted our action. We have been impelled by the highest motives of patriotism and anxiety for the welfare of our whole people, and nothing else, and we shall always cherish the pleasing assurance that we have done our duty, in the course we have pursued, to God and to our country.

But, discouraging as the prospects are, there is yet before us a COURSE OF HARNEST DUTY, which we shall soon endeavor to point out to our fellow citizens.

That the new Constitution, properly construed, contains the elements of ruin to the State, we have no question. But should it become the organic law of the State, we shall obey it, however ruinous it may prove, so long as it is the law, and until we shall be able to reverse it. We shall not cease to labor for the overthrow of the foul fiend, Radicalism, as the great enemy to liberty, to right, to law, to morals, to government and to society. We must pick our flints and try the arch-enemy again, if defeated now.

CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE.

The uncertainties which shroud the political horizon of the Republic would be sufficiently enervating and depressing to the spirits of our people, even if their pecuniary and economical circumstances were favorable; but when bread and the means of living are limited, prices high and money scarce, what can remove the gloom which settles upon them?

The agricultural people of North Carolina are just commencing to plant their crops for the year, after a most disagreeable and unpropitious season. An exciting political campaign has been forced upon them, at a time when every hand was needed to make the necessary preparations for the crop. Corn and meat are scarce and high, even at the outset, and stark want stares many a poor person in the face. Surely the Southern people have nothing to stimulate or encourage them. But to repine and mope over our condition, is to perish.

Every one, men, women and children, must be stirred to activity. Work, profitable work, of some kind, must be done, in order to preserve life. Yet character, virtue and liberty are dearer than life. Let us, therefore, encourage all to labor, to be industrious, rigidly economical and determinedly virtuous.

There never was a time, in the history of our people, when the demands of truth and virtue, stern personal integrity, lives of temperance, chastity and industry, were more necessary for us. Public and private example are less influential for good, than at any other period of our history. Men lie and commit fraud, for the love of it. So general is the demoralization, that public and private confidence is shaken to its foundations. Yet, so long as the distinctions of virtue and vice, truth and falsehood, remain, we must struggle against the current of vice and immorality.

WILL WE GET IN?—That is the question, if the carpet-bag Constitution is adopted.—If ratified, it will be by so lean a majority as must convince the Congressional Radicals, that North Carolina, under a Constitution enfranchising thousands now disfranchised, will vote overwhelmingly, in the Presidential election, for the Democratic nominee. This being the case, they will hardly accept the Constitution or remove Holden's disabilities.

ALAMANCE.—It is rumored that the Radical poll-holders at one of the boxes in this county moved over into Chatham, for the purpose of counting the votes, and subsequently sent back to ascertain how many votes were needed. Can this be so? We should not be at all surprised. It is in perfect keeping with other infamous frauds that have been perpetrated all over North Carolina.

FRAUDS IN McDOWELL.—It is stated that negroes were allowed to vote in McDowell, in the night time, and under the cover of darkness, long after the polls were closed! This is one of the thousand instances of rascality which have been perpetrated all over the State.

ORGANIZE! ORGANIZE!

The Conservatives of North Carolina have made a noble fight, though there is room to fear that they have been beaten by an unscrupulous and reckless opposition. Their defeat, if beaten, is owing to the want of thorough organization, the shortness of the time for the canvass, and the complete organization of the enemy, under a secret sworn association, aided by any amount of money.

It is undeniable that the Conservatives compose the intelligence and real worth of the State. A more patriotic, virtuous and intelligent body of men never existed in any State. We do not propose, therefore, a factious, querulous opposition to our opponents. They have declared that the triumph of the new Constitution, and of the Radical party in the State, would bring a hey-day of prosperity and peace to our people. Give them a fair trial. Let them test the beauties of their new Constitution, and the capacity of their new-fledged officers and Judges for their several functions.

But let the Conservatives ORGANIZE AT ONCE, more thoroughly and efficiently. They will now occupy the field of inspection and review, and must stand shoulder to shoulder, through weal or woe, to guard the safety and well-being of the State. Let us ORGANIZE, we say, solidly and strongly, for the patriotic purposes of good citizenship and for the overthrow of the enemies of the Republic.

THE LEGISLATURE.

As far as positively heard from, Conservatives have been elected to the House of Representatives as follows: Carteret 1, Sampson 1, Duplin 2, Columbus 1, Brunswick 1, Nash 1, Wilson 1, Harnett 1, Orange 2, Alamance 1, Cabarrus 1, Stanly 1, Mecklenburg 2, Catawba 1, Cleveland 1, Rowan 2, Davie 1, Iredell 2, Caldwell 1, Alexander 1, Martin 1, Gates 1, Camden 1, Currituck 1—29.

And Conservative Senators, certainly, from the following districts: Ninth (Nash and Wilson); Twelfth, (Duplin and Onslow); Fourteenth, (Bladen and Columbus); Sixteenth, (Cumberland, Harnett and Sampson,) two; Twenty-second, (Orange); Thirtieth, (Mecklenburg); Thirty-first, (Stanly and Cabarrus); Thirty second, (Davie and Rowan); Thirty seventh, (Gaston, Catawba and Lincoln)—10.

Among the Conservative legislators elect are such men as Hon. Jas. W. Osborne, Hon. Josiah Turner, jr., Dr. J. R. Ellis, Plato Durham, W. M. Robbins, Dr. Jas. A. Moore, and other men of mark and merit.

POOR OLD WARREN.—The Indicator says that the legislators for old Warren—a county that was once represented by Nathaniel Macon and Weldon N. Edwards—in case the Constitution is adopted, will be three hybrid negroes, William Cawthorn, John Hyman and Dick Falkener. The first has the most intelligence, the second the most self-importance, the last the most malice. Such a representation for Warren county would furnish a striking commentary upon the degeneracy of the times, and place Radicalism in a light that must make it hideous to every man of ordinary intelligence. These creatures, legislators of men of sense, indeed! They are only fit to blacken the boots of gentlemen and to wear their cast-off clothes.

DEATH OF BISHOP HAWKS, OF MISSOURI. The Missouri Republican announces the death, on the 19th. instant, of the Right Rev. Cicero S. Hawks, D. D Ll. D., aged fifty-six. For more than twenty years he filled the office of Bishop of the Episcopal Church for the Diocese of Missouri. During a large portion of that period he was the active pastor of Christ Church in St. Louis. He was counted among the most eloquent divines in a church which has been served by many accomplished pulpit orators. Under his supervision the Episcopal Church in Missouri grew to large proportions in members and wealth. He was born in Newbern, North Carolina, on the 26th. of May, 1812; he was the youngest of nine children, all of whom are now dead with the exception of the eldest sister, Mrs. Phebe Anderson, widow of Hon. Walker Anderson, for a long period Judge of the Supreme Court in Florida. Four of the family have died within the past two years, the last previous to the Bishop being Rev. Francis L. Hawks, D. D., in the fall of 1866, in New York.

(From the Galaxy.)

An examination of the tax books of New York city (for 1866-67) shows that already ten men own one-tenth part of the whole taxable property of the city, as follows:

Wm. B Astor	$16,114,000
Wm. C. Rhinelander	7,745,000
A. T. Stewart	6,091,500
Peter and Robert Goelet	4,417,000
James Lenox	4,360,000
Peter Lorillard, (since dead)	4,245,000
John David Wolfe	3,997,000
M. M. Hendricks	1,690,000
Rufus L. Lord	1,580,000
C. V. S. Roosevelt	1,346,000
Total	$51,405,500

The total of the taxable property in this same year was $555,442,012. So that it appears that ten men already own about one-tenth of all; and one hundred men might own the whole of the city, had their fathers, and they, done as these have done. The highest tax paid on the list amounted to $358,140, and the lowest to $22,670. Either of them very pretty fortunes in most quarters of the habitable globe. Together, these ten paid taxes to the amount of $1,182,326.

THE DEMOCRATIC VICTORY IN CHICAGO.—The New York World has the following special dispatch from Chicago:

Chicago is Democratic to the centre.—McAllister, the candidate for recorder, is elected by 921 majority. O'Hara has been elected clerk by a slightly reduced majority. Democratic Chicago sends invitations to the delegates to the National Republican Convention to meet in Democratic Chicago to nominate Grant "or any other man;" our doors are open. The spinal column of Radicalism is broken. The home of Douglas is redeemed. The country is safe! "How are you, Radicals?"

SIGNIFICANT.—Forney publishes Sumner's speech denying the right of Chief Justice Chase to vote even in case of a tie in the Senate, and remarks that he does so because it may assume a practical value should Justice Chase assume to vote on the final judgment with the Senators, as already suggested in certain quarters.

But there cannot be a tie. If the vote be for example, 33 to 16, it is sufficient to convict. If 33 to 17, no conviction follows.—And so of any other figures.

From the "Land We Love," for May.

We have all along based our opposition to the Reconstruction Bill, upon the ground that it puts the life and property of the South at the mercy and control of ignorant and irresponsible negroes, who must necessarily become the dupes of the vilest and basest of mankind. Nothing has so effectually demonstrated the utter unfitness of the negroes to exercise the elective franchise, as the selections they have made of candidates for office. They have chosen as their champions, negro-traders, slave-drivers of the most brutal type, or men whose life record had been hatred of the Union. The trafficker in flesh and blood, the brutal master and Yankee hater are now the standard bearers for "the man and brother." Hunnicutt, of Virginia, embodies in his own proper person, the three qualifications, which seem to be the most popular with the deluded negroes. Holden, of North Carolina, is a life long nullifier and secessionist. He raised a hue and cry against Professor Hedrick, of the University of North Carolina, and had him driven out of the State, for advocating Fremont for the Presidency. He succeeded in banishing H. H. Helper for a similar offence. He signed, with his own gold pen, the Ordinance of Secession, which took North Carolina out of the Union, wiped the pen carefully and said "that he intended to leave it as an heirloom in his family." He, for weeks and months, declared, through his paper, his "unalterable opposition to negro suffrage." This man is now the negro candidate for Governor of North Carolina!! All the negro pets in the State are men of precisely the same type.

The Raleigh Register, a "truly loyal" Radical paper, published at the Capital of the State, gives the following pen and ink sketch of the negro leaders:

W. W. Holden is a disfranchised traitor, by the laws of the United States, and he could not take his seat if elected.

He has also declared that his object in wishing to stop the war was to "save slavery." He has declared, since the war, that opposition to negro suffrage was the most conspicuous of "Union landmarks."—He tried, during the war, it is said, to put his negroes into money.

D. A. Jenkins, of Gaston, is the Holden candidate for Public Treasurer. He was a notorious slave driver and negro trader, and is "charged with having hung a negro woman by the neck until dead."

Samuel W. Watts, of Martin, is the Holden candidate for Judge in the Sixth District. He was in Franklin county, during the war, hunting fugitive negroes with dogs.

John V. Sherard, of Wayne, is the Holden candidate for Solicitor in that District. Col. Jenkins states, in his public speeches, that, when he was Attorney General, he prosecuted Sherard, in Johnston Superior Court, for "whipping an old negro man to death, and convicted him of manslaughter."

This is a precious picture! The man who drove Prof. Hedrick out of the State, (though one of the most gifted and patriotic men in it,) on account of very mild anti slavery views, is now the adored idol of the negro race in North Carolina.

The negro pet, in South Carolina, was banished from all decent society, in Columbia, for his brutality to his negroes. We have heard one of the most prominent citizens in that State relate a most revolting instance of this fiend's cruelty. His joining the negro party is due to his hatred of respectable people, for the contempt with which they treated him, on account of his outrageous treatment of his negroes.

In Georgia, the man most confided in, by this ignorant class, next to Brown and Bullock, was once an overseer, noted for his heartless severity. The loyal Governor Brown himself is the very same individual, who ordered the seizure of Fort Pulaski, on the 3d. Jan., 1861, some weeks before the Secession of Georgia. He was so extreme in his zeal for the Southern cause, that he could not wait for the action of his State. With the same hot zeal, he seized, in the Port of Savannah, private vessels belonging to parties in the North. But he is now a loyal man, because he favors negro equality; while Ben Hill, who always opposed Secession, is branded as a traitor. Truly, we have fallen upon strange times!

From the National Intelligencer.

"THE ROLL OF INFAMY."

There is scarcely a difference of opinion among just men as to the wicked course of certain Senators in overruling that decision of Chief Justice Chase which would let in the testimony of the Cabinet councilors of the President as to his intent in appointing Gen. Thomas. There are honorable men of the Republican party who think that when testimony from the best source as to the intent of the President was ruled out contrary to the judgment of the Chief Justice, and, perhaps, the only superior lawyers in the Senate, the counsel for the President should have thrown up the case, and let the Jacobins go on and do their worst. They might have appealed to God and the country for the vindication of a persecuted Chief Magistrate.

The Albany Argus publishes the roll of offenders, and says:

"We place this action and these names on record, that the public may compare them with the verdict when it comes. There is a Roll of infamy to be made up, upon which names are to be written for the scorn of future times. No name will go upon that scroll except such as volunteer to place it there. Once on, it will never be obliterated. Let Senators look well to it!"

THE OATH OF SENATORS.

The following is the oath solemnly taken by each of the Senators now sitting in the High Court of Impeachment:

"I solemnly swear, that in all things appertaining to the trial of the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, now pending, I will do impartial justice according to the Constitution and laws. So help me God."

It is possible that the reckless and unscrupulous partisans who are urging the conviction of President Johnson, not upon "impartial justice according to the Constitution and the laws," but simply as a "party necessity," may regard lightly this solemn obligation, which each of the Senators has assumed. It is simply subornation of perjury in these outside operators to urge Senators to disregard this oath, but in the eyes of God and men it would be plain, unmitigated perjury for a Senator, who has sworn this oath, to yield to the importunities of others to substitute "party necessity" for the solemn obligation which, in the name of the Almighty, he has imposed upon himself to "do impartial justice according to the Constitution and the laws."—Nat. Intel.

CHARLOTTE.—The suspense under which the citizens had been kept, arising from the uncertainty of the Charlotte box, being dispelled by the announcement of 41 Conservative majority, the enthusiasm of the citizens knew no bounds, but broke forth in the wildest demonstrations of joy. Messrs. J. J. Sims and Chas. H. Elms, whose devotedness to the cause, and boldness in defence of our rights, have won for them the lasting regard of the people of Mecklenburg, were raised up on the shoulders of them and borne triumphantly through the city, amidst the victorious shouts of their grateful fellow-citizens.—Char. Times, 25th.

EXACTLY.—We are all aware that the man (Mr. Johnson) must be found guilty, because he is not guilty.—John Mitchel.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1868

THE ELECTION.

We commence, to day, incorporating into our table such returns as are officially ascertained, —and only such.

We give below such rumored results as have reached us since our last issue. What ever may come in, subsequent to the compilation of this summary, will be found in our telegraphic column.

The majority against the infamous Constitution in Iredell is estimated at something over 700, instead of 850, as previously reported.

Wilkes is reported Radical by about 600 Davidson by about the same, and Guilford by 300.

It is rumored that Caswell has gone Conservative by upwards of 100. If this be so, it is the most remarkable result of the election, as the negro registered majority is five or six hundred over the white registration.

Union is reported to have given nearly 300 Conservative majority. If this is so, it is a most gratifying result.

The supposed majority against the Constitution in Gaston (Dave Jenkins' county) is between 150 and 200.

Burke goes Radical by about 100 majority. It went for Convention and the mongrel delegates by 500 or more. This time, too, it had the aid of a large number of negroes from other counties, brought there by the Contractors on the Western N. C. R. R., as laborers. Tod Caldwell (than whom no man is more universally detested among the whites of his county) has confined his efforts to Burke, and certain official influences are said to have been thrown into the scale against us. The negroes are said, also, to have committed wholesale perjury in regard to age, &c. The white Radical vote in Burke is utterly inconsiderable,—the county having been carried by negroes.

McDowell is doubtful,—that county voting, like this, a large gang of imported Railroad hands. By the way, many of these negroes—probably 200—went from this county, and yet the negro vote here is largely increased. Were the names of the absentees assumed by other negroes, who were so prompted by their scallawag masters? It looks that way.

Chatham, notwithstanding first rumors, is reported to have gone for the Radicals by some 200.

Robeson goes Radical, though there is a Conservative gain of about 300 over the Convention election. The most atrocious frauds are reported in this county.

Richmond is close. It is calculated that there will be a gain of 800 for the Conservatives over the election for Convention.

Greene and Pitt go largely scallawag.—Beaufort the same way—unreliable report.

Granville gives between four and five hundred majority for the negroes—a gain of some 900 over the last vote. R. W. Lassiter was the only white man, (so-called,) in Oxford, who voted the mongrel ticket!

Warren gives 1,282 nigger majority,—a Conservative gain. Under all the circumstances, Warren has done well.

Washington gives 452 majority for the "Constitution."

Gates is gloriously redeemed., 'Old Black Tom Hofler," candidate for the House of Representatives, is out of the way for ever. Gates gives 231 majority against the infamous Constitution. Our informant writes that if Little-field had made two more speeches in the county, the Radicals would have got no votes

Pasquotank gives 400 in favor of the Constitution.

Perquimans gives 200 the same way.—Chowan 250 ditto.

Camden and Currituck roll up several hundred against the hybrid concern.

A correspondent, writing from Chowan, says that it is generally believed that the boxes were tampered with on the night of the 23rd.

AUBURN.—The following colored men voted the Conservative ticket at this precinct, viz: Stephen Rand, Joseph Bird and Wesley Powell. Remember them. The first named of these was active and efficient.

ONLY THREE white men in the County of Warren voted the scallawag ticket. About fifty negroes voted the Conservative ticket.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Soda Fountain, low for cash: W. H. Jones & Co.

Canned Fruits and Vegetables, Fresh Lobster and Salmon, Pickled Beef, Hams, &c: W. H. Jones & Co.

Corn, Flour, &c., &c: W. H. Jones & Co.

Annual Meeting of Stockholders of the Bank of Cape Fear: J. G. Burr, Cashier.

The hens in the neighborhood of Lexington have commenced to lay eggs with K. K. K., on them. So a correspondent of the Gazette says.

MONTGOMERY.

Extract from a letter to the Editors, dated:

TROY, N. C., April 23, 1868.

"The voting in this county is about over. The Constitution is carried in the county, by, I fear, a considerable majority.

I have some hope that Mr. Robins, our candidate for the Senate in this district, is elected. Still I fear even that J. H. Davis, a man not known to me, nor even to one tenth of the men in the county—a Yankee, or says he is—was run on the Radical ticket, and some of the party erased his name, and we have some hope that Randolph may help us out with Robins.

P. S. Later reports confirm me in thinking that the county has gone for the Constitution by a considerable majority, and Davis has carried the county by 2 or 300."

GALLANT LITTLE STANLY.

Extract from a letter, dated

ALBEMARLE, April 24.

"Stanly has defeated the Constitution by at least 150 majority—perhaps 200. The entire Conservative ticket is elected. Morton, the "Constitutional" scallawag, is badly beaten for Representative, (so-called.)

Every white man in Albemarle voted against the Constitution. What town can beat it?"

GLORIOUS OLD MECKLENBURG.

Extract from a letter to the Editors, dated

CHARLOTTE, April 24.

"This has been headquarters for idle negroes, for a hundred miles around, since the war, with all the power of the Bureau to help—but noble has old Mecklenburg done her duty, and the sacred spot of the first Declaration is still to be represented by white men, should the Constitution be accepted.

Negro candidates and white skinned imported carpet-baggers must travel to other parts."

RUMOR.—It is said that the leading Rads hereabouts, in anticipation of the success of their ticket, are determined to protest against the removal of the disabilities of some of their candidates, who are admitted, even by them, to be unfit for any decent office. This programme includes several of their Judges, Dave Jenkins, &c.

INTIMIDATION.—The Goldsboro' Rough Notes says that a negro, calling himself Benj. Whitley, was arrested, on Thursday, on the charge of intimidating a Conservative negro. If all the negro intimidators in this city had been arrested, there could not have been found prison accommodations sufficient for them.

A TORCH-LIGHT procession of negroes took place in Goldsboro', on Friday night. It is said that the band of the 40th Regiment was lent them for the occasion, and that negro soldiers joined in the procession. That miserable demagogue and leveler, C. H. Brogden, made them a speech. An effort to beat a Conservative colored man was prevented by the police.

THE Journal office polled twelve Conservative votes. We (the Local) are not disfranchised by non-age, and both voted and blew the trumpet. We venture to say that no other printing office in the State can beat this.—Wilmington Journal.

We are nearly up to you, friend Journal. The Sentinel office polled eleven Conservative votes—two of which were by colored men. Two of us were disfranchised, or we would have beat you.

THE LAND WE LOVE.—The May number is before us,—and a brilliant, sparkling, attractive number it is. The frontispiece is a beautiful steel engraving of the family of the Hon. Jefferson Davis, embracing an interesting group of four children. The first article is a sketch of that brave and skillful officer, Maj. Gen. S. D. Ramseur, who sealed his devotion to Liberty with his blood.—The author pays a glowing and just tribute to the chivalrous soldier,—a tribute which all who knew the gallant subject of his sketch will heartily and feelingly endorse. We will take an early opportunity to publish the article entire.

The other papers in the number are full of interest,—the Haversack and the Editorial department being unusually racy. The Editor gives the North Carolina scallawags, beginning with their Grand Mogul, Holden, a series of severe blows with his trenchant blade. Long flourish "The Land We Love!"

APPEARANCE OF A COMET.—The comet, known in astronomical circles as Brorson's comet, has made its appearance. It may be seen with an instrument of low power, appearing like a hazy star, just skirting the Northern border of the beautiful group of the Pleaides, and moving in a northeasterly direction. We may scarcely hope to get more than a very distant and imperfect view of it.

READ the article from the World, on our first page. It is a terribly bitter satire on the depravity of the times and the whole Impeachment farce.

IF THE Radical ticket is elected, it has been accomplished by the negro vote in Craven, New Hanover, Warren, Halifax and Edgecombe. So we will have, in that event, a Nigger Governor, &c., &c. Q. E. D.

A SECRET BALLOT ON IMPEACHMENT.—The New York Times refers to the immense pressure brought to bear upon the members of the Impeachment Court—some of whom have been terribly threatened in case they vote for acquittal—and suggests that they vote by secret ballot. The Times calls on Sumner to propose it, which, of course, he won't.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.

WASHINGTON, April 25, M.

Gen. Lovell H. Rousseau has arrived from Alaska, as a witness for the Defence. He left Sacramento on the 4th of April

Regular pools are opened at the fashionable gambling houses, where bets are made on all the impeachment questions, including the final result.

Nelson's speech is universally read and applauded. It is admirable.

In the Senate, the resolution that the proceedings of the Court in retirement be published by regular reporters, in the usual way, was postponed until Monday.

The Chief Justice ordered the Prosecution to proceed, but, Stevens being absent, they asked time, and Mr. Groesbeck is speaking.

RADICAL SPLIT.

ALEXANDRIA, April 25, M.

The Radical County Convention nominated Hawkhurst, for Governor. One white and one negro were nominated for the Legislature.

A split occurred and nearly half of their delegation withdrew. The Seceders were composed of about an equal number of whites and blacks.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.

(SPECIAL TO THE SENTINEL.)

CHARLOTTE, April 25 P. M

Rutherford, Lincoln and Gaston are reported as giving Republican majorities.

WILMINGTON, April, 25, P. M.

Sufficient returns received to warrant the conclusion that the Constitution has been ratified by a small majority. This is generally conceded by the Conservatives.

Hon. N. Boyden is probably the only Conservative elected to Congress. His majority is 2500

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 25, P. M.

Senator Yates writes a letter to the citizens of Illinois, refusing to resign, but promising hereafter to do his duty, free from his besetting sin which has dragged him down. He claims that his drunkenness has been exaggerated.

Gen. Schofield's nomination causes various speculations: First, as an olive branch held out to Conservative Senators. Second, a compromise between Johnson and Grant, but the affair is still a State secret.

Johnson appears not to have consulted even the Cabinet about the nomination.

In the Court of impeachment, Sumner submitted a motion, that the vote on the several articles proceed at 12 o'clock of the day after argument.

Objection was made and it goes over, under the rules, to Monday.

Sumner proposed two additional rules: First, that Chase shall ask each Senator "how do you vote," and he shall reply "guilty" or "not guilty"; and, second, that, upon conviction it shall be the duty of the presiding officer to order the convict's removal forthwith. Objection, and the matter goes over to Monday.

Several Senators made points that new issues would come into the Senate, were interminable debate allowable, postponing the result indefinitely.

Chase ordered the argument to proceed, but the Prosecution not responding, Groesbeck commenced, and contended that the body he was addressing was a Court. Arguing from the constitution which permitted neither bills of attainder nor irresponsible tribunals especially such as were laws unto themselves. Lincoln's plans in violations of the Constitution had been ratified by Congress, because his motives were good

Then he proceeded to argue that the first eight articles rested on whether the President had the right to remove Stanton and give Thomas the ad interim appointment. He argued that had Lincoln lived, and had the tenure of office bill passed in hostility to Lincoln. Lincoln, under its provisions, during his second term, could have legally removed the Cabinet officers appointed by himself during his first term, and that Stanton had infinitely less claim to the tenure under Mr. Johnson's term

The President, having consulted his advisers indicated by the Constitution, was guiltless of crime. It was comparatively useless to urge the unconstitutionality of the act with those who frame it, but, granting its constitutionality, he denied the President's criminality.

He quoted a number of precedents, against which was the act of 1867 alone, claiming that there was abundant room for doubt and hesitation, on the part of the President, sufficient at least to induce him to a last resort, with a view of obtaining a Judicial decision.

He asked whether the President was to be convicted and deposed, because he had acted on the interposition sanctioned by his constitutional advisers, by the 38th Congress, by the Supreme Court and uniform practice of the Government.

The evidence showed that the President acted in the public interest in removing Stanton.

As he proceeded, he held the floor and galleries spell bound, concluding by expressing his confidence in the final result. He characterized the President's precedents of conviction, referred to by the Managers, as rather beacon lights of warning, than example for guidance.

In conclusion, he pronounced a glowing eulogism, upon Johnson's life, character and services.

DAILY SENTINEL.

MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1868.

[From the Charleston Courier.]

THEY CALL IT PEACE.

They call it peace, while yet we feel
The taunt, the gibe, the iron heel,
The coward hate, the dastard sway,
Of those we foiled through years of fray.
'Though they should grind us into dust,
'Though liberty itself is crushed,
'Though Hope's fair star, with feeble ray,
But dimly lights our cloudy way,
'Though despots now usurp the hour,
We shrink not from their vengeful power,—
We crouch not to the tyrant-will
Of those who hate, but dare not kill!

They cannot urge us to despair;
More than the past we even dare,
We dare them —not as oft before,
To battle fields of death and gore.
Feeble as insects in their path,
We dare defy their wildest wrath,
Defenceless now,—alas! no more,
Th' embattled host they've fled before!

No servile look is there to trace,
Or mark us as an abject race.
Nor do we bend a cringing knee;—
In thought, at least, we still are free!
Though they may doom us with a breath,
While honor lives there is no death.

Our homes are waste; their blackened walls
But picture forth a ghastly scene.
The desolation of our halls
Tells where the spoiler's hand has been.
The torch, the flame, the vandal host,
Did well their work, and all was lost,

But manhood, and the quenchless soul,
Which treasures till another day,
Remembrance of our fearful dole,
When righteousness shall all repay.
The sighs, the groans, and weeping sore,
Of those we loved, who are no more!

Their graves are green,—we do not weep,
This death-like stillness is but sleep.
Their fate is chronicled on high,—
He heard their moans, and saw them die.
'Tis His to smite, and His the power,
And red the wrath, which waits His hour!

SCENE IN A COURT HOUSE.

In the good old times in Kentucky, "when substantial justice was administered in a log cabin, after a very free and easy manner, a suit was brought to recover certain moneys which it was alleged plaintiff had been defrauded out of by the ingenious operation known as "thimble rigging." In the course of the trial, plaintiff's counsel, who happened to be an "expert," undertook to enlighten the court as to the modus operandi of the perfomance.

Putting himself into position, he produced three cups and "the little joker," and proceeded, suiting the action to the word:

"Then may it please the court, the defendant placing the cups on his knee thus, began shifting them so, offering to bet that my client could not tell under which was 'the little joker;' meaning thereby, may it please the court, this ball, with the intention of defrauding my client of the sum thus wagered. For instance, when I raise the cup so, your honor supposes that you see the ball."

"Suppose I see!" interrupted the judge, who had closely watched the performace, and was sure that he detected the ball, as one of the cups was accidentally raised.—"Why any fool can see where it is, and bet on it, and be sure to win. There ain't no defraudin' thar."

"Perhaps your honor would like to go a V on it?" insinuated the counsel.

"Go a V! Yes, and double it too, and here's the rhino. It's under the middle cup."

"I'll go a V on that," said the foreman of the jury.

"And I, and I," joined the jurors, one after the other, until each one had invested his pile.

"Up!" said his honor.

"Up" it was, but "the joker" had mysteriously disappeared. The Judge and jury were enlightened, and found no difficulty in bringing in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, on the ground that it was the "darndest kind o' defraudin."

A lady who started out of sleep by some one trying to enter the house, cried out: "Who is there?" "Your late husband," was the reply.

"The papers are all taking about Weston's great feat," said an old lady, yesterday.—"Does it require any great feet to walk as fast as he does?"

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B., except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whom it is made, may stamp it before it is used; and if used after the 25th of July, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot afterwards be effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument, to appropriately stamp it, renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrants, publication, &c., in which case these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original process.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and is subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits of legal proceedings.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any printed or written evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at any time designated, are subject to stamp duty as Promissory Notes.

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage, at time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps, denoting a duty of fifty cents.

When two or more persons [illegible] in the execution of an instrument, the stamp [illegible] which this instrument is liable, under the [illegible] may be affixed and cancelled by one of the parties.

In conveyance of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, which such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rates required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

NEW ARRANGEMENT

FOR THE SENTINEL.

Published in the City of Raleigh, N. C.,

Daily, Semi Weekly and Weekly.

William E. Pell, }
Seaton Gales, } Editors.

In view of the scarcity of money, and the severity of the times, the Proprietor of the SENTINEL has determined to reduce the terms of the paper, to commence after the 31st. DECEMBER, next, and to make such improvements in its general character as will commend it to the patronage of an enlightened public.

In POLITICS it will be thoroughly Conservative, advocating, at all times:

A strict observance of the Constitution of the United States, and the harmonious Union of equal States;

Obedience to law and the enforcement of order;

The supremacy of the civil over the military, in time of peace;

The equality of the three co-ordinate branches of the government;

The sovereignty of the States over their own internal affairs, in strict conformity to the Constitution;

The maintenance of freedom and justice to all, without distinction of color, but the supremacy of the white race as the governing class;

Opposition to Radicalism in all its phases.

As a NEWS journal, it shall be equal to any.—The principal markets will be regularly published.

Its LITERARY character shall be maintained and improved, by contributions from our best writers.

Finally, the SENTINEL will seek to be the special promoter of the educational, moral and economical interests of the people of North Carolina.

All subscriptions strictly cash in advance.

As an advertising medium, the SENTINEL is equal to any in the State. Terms moderate.

☞ We ask every Conservative in the State to become our Agent to extend the circulation of the SENTINEL. The events of 1868 will be exciting and important. The WEEKLY SENTINEL should be in the hands of the great body of the people—The terms are now so low that every one will be able to pay for it.
